That is all of the information that I presently have to share with the Class. If you are going to attend, it is on the base and you will need to RSVP to Scott (see information above).

In closing, I hope that this finds each of you healthy, happy and wiser today than yesterday. Please take a few moments to renew a friendship, call / Teams / Zoom / Text / Visit a Classmate and take care of each other. You never know what a difference you can make.

Please remember Randy Stefanovic as well as he prepares to bury his daughter, Olivia, this Friday in Boca Raton, FL. As a Class, please reach out and let both of these families know that they are not alone!

As always, BEAT ARMY, and as Guad would say for himself, At Altitude,

Joe
